Cedar Shannon
Commercial Truck Driver Training

Cedar Shannon grew up in Southern Oregon. After six years in the military, he received a degree from Rogue Community College and proceeded to follow in his father’s footsteps to become a professional CDL Driver. During the 13 years he has been driving professionally, he has also become a licensed commercial pilot, a devoted husband, and a proud father of four. Driving has provided the stability and flexibility he needed in times where other industries were suffering. Mr. Shannon is looking forward to paying forward the wisdom and encouragement that have been imparted to him. He considers joining the staff here at RCC, an honor and a privilege.

Jenay Elder
Portrait Drawing

Jenay developed a sharp eye for portrait drawing after studying cast and figure drawing with Soviet trained teachers at The Ashland Academy of Art. Since graduating the Academy (2010) she has pursued plein air painting. This practice has further shaped Jenay’s artistic vision by once again immersing herself in the poetry of soaking in a time and place. On location, feeling cold and numb, listening to the piercing ringing of new, deep snow, this time without sock mittens; painting gardens and flowers outdoors, absorbing the heavy perfume, feeling the sun’s heat on a familiar shoulder plane. Jenay’s sensitivity leads her artistic process to choose subjects with insight and familiarity. During her process she attempts to express to others the joy that life offers by being present, breathing, and at the very least experience it herself.

Jenay’s work has been featured in several gallery shows, including the UVAA 30 under 30 exhibit and is in private collections around the world. She is a recent recipient of the Haines Foundation grant and has participated in numerous, regional plein air events, paint outs and shows. Elder’s original oil paintings are available through her galleries here. For reproductions, commissions or to schedule a workshop please contact the artist.

Jenay also spends her time illustrating with her kids and has created a small line of children’s themed books available on amazon.

Art & Craft

Animation: Character Design
Instructor: Phillip Young
Learn how to develop and design animated characters for use in videos, films, commercials, games and TV productions. The class is taught by retired Disney animator Phil Young, who worked on many films, including The Little Mermaid, The Lion King, and Mulan. Explore techniques for visualizing your ideas through traditional drawing and sculpting.
